A: Lokheim:

Yes, two of my cousins have criminal records.

COMPANIONS & LEISURE

Q: Interviewer:

What kind of organizations or clubs have you belonged to?

A: Lokheim:

I didn't belong to any organizations or clubs in the past. Um, they try to say I belong to my neighborhood which was a street gang. They try to say organization. I'm not with that lifestyle.

Q: Interviewer:

How do you usually spend your free time?

A: Lokheim:

I exercise a lot in my free time. I enjoy my free time, enjoy exercising, like working out.

Q: Interviewer:

Do you know many people who have been in trouble with the law? Do your friends have records?

A: Lokheim:

Yes, I know many. But friends? Not many. I don't got this many friends been in trouble with the law. Not often.

Q: Interviewer:

Do you have many friends not involved in crime?

A: Lokheim:

Yes, I have many friends that are not involved in criminal activity.

ALCOHOL & DRUGS

Q: Interviewer:

Please describe your use of alcohol and drugs.

A: Lokheim:

I don't drink alcohol. I don't use drugs. I'm currently prescribed Suboxone. I have used marijuana in the past. Marijuana was my drug of choice in the past.

Q: Interviewer:

Have you had medical or financial difficulties due to substance use?

A: Lokheim:

No, no medical problems and no financial difficulties.

Q: Interviewer:

How does your family feel about your use right now?

A: Lokheim:

They feel more comfortable with me being on Suboxone than opiates. I feel it is more safer and cleaner and healthier. I do want to get all the way sober clean, but right now I am currently using Suboxone. My family feel is better than using street drugs. So, it's healthier, it's cleaner, safer.

ATTITUDES & COGNITION

Q: Interviewer:

How do you feel about the crimes you committed?

A: Lokheim:

I wish I could take my past mistakes away, but I can't. So, I'm just moving forward in life. The crimes I committed... I really... I feel the last case I feel I was defending myself, protecting myself. I was put in a bad situation and I'm protecting myself. The first case, I regret the situation. I should not even have been involved in it.

Q: Interviewer:

Do you think the crimes were wrong?

A: Lokheim:

The first situation, the first crime was wrong. I shouldn't have robbed nobody. I shouldn't have robbed nothing. But the second situation, I was defending myself and protecting my life.

Q: Interviewer:

Would you like to lead a life without crime?

A: Lokheim:

Yes.

Q: Interviewer:

Do you think your sentence was appropriate and fair?

A: Lokheim:

No.

Q: Interviewer:

Do you feel the supervision you are being placed under is appropriate and fair?

A: Lokheim:

It's justifiable. Justifiable. It's appropriate. I guess they need to be able to supervise people that came out of prison. Is it fair for the situation? No, it wasn't fair because someone tried to rob me and harm me and I protected myself.

MENTAL HEALTH & RESPONSIVITY

Q: Interviewer:

Have you been assessed by a psychiatrist or psychologist?

A: Lokheim:

Yes, I have been assessed by a psychiatrist and the psychiatrist said I was diagnosed with antisocial personality disorder and anxiety and depression. Mild, not bad, but I got mild depression and anxiety. At least that's what they say.

Q: Interviewer:

Were you ever removed from home by DSS, truant, or ran away?

A: Lokheim:

No. No. No. And my parents had no major trouble raising me.

Q: Interviewer:

Are you currently seeing someone or taking medications?

A: Lokheim:

I'm already seeing one at Innovative Solutions weekly. I'm taking Suboxone and Mirtazapine. It's a psych med.

Q: Interviewer:

Do you often act before thinking? Are you patient?

A: Lokheim:

No, I think before I act often. I make goals and plans and check if I'm following them. And I'm a very patient person.

Q: Interviewer:

Do you suffer from any trauma or fear?

A: Lokheim:

No, I'm not afraid of anyone harming me. But I do suffer from PTSD due to me being in prison for so long, due to me being in the United States Penitentiary prison, the highest security. And in that environment, yes, I do suffer and I am afraid. And I do worry, but that's because of my environment from the past. But as of right now, I don't got no problems with no one.
